

PROQOLID (www.proqolid.org) is a comprehensive online database designed to assist academic researchers, physicians, students, pharmaceutical companies, health authorities, and international organizations in the search and evaluation of PRO instruments.

ISOQOL members can benefit from a discount (from 20% to 25%) on annual subscriptions to PROQOLID (www.proqolid.org)

◆ The aim of PROQOLID is:

- To provide an overview of existing PRO instruments
- To provide relevant information on PRO instruments
- To provide facilitated access to the instruments and their developers
- To facilitate the choice of an appropriate PRO instrument

◆ Subscribe to ProQolid (www.proqolid.org):

ProQolid is available on an annual subscription basis to pharmaceutical companies, regulatory agencies, non-profit organizations and universities.

Members of the ISOQOL must declare that the subscription is for their private use and may subscribe at the reduced rates of:
