Appraisal Theory and Measurement
Bruce Rapkin, PhD, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Bronx, NY, United States; Carolyn E. Schwartz, ScD, DeltaQuest Foundation, Inc., Tufts University Medical School, Concord, MA, United States

What role do person factors play in modifying the impact of treatment burden in chronic illness?
David Eton, PhD, Mayo Clinic, Rochester, MN, United States; Jie Zhang, PhD, DeltaQuest Foundation, Inc., Concord, MA, United States; Bruce Rapkin, PhD, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Bronx, NY, United States; Wes Michael, MBA, Rare Patient Voice, LLC, Towson, MD, United States; Carolyn E. Schwartz, ScD, DeltaQuest Foundation, Inc., Tufts University Medical School, Concord, MA, United States

Resilience to health challenges is related to different ways of thinking: Mediators of physical and emotional quality of life in a heterogeneous rare-disease cohort
Carolyn E. Schwartz, ScD, DeltaQuest Foundation, Inc., Tufts University Medical School, Concord, MA, United States; Wes Michael, MBA, Rare Patient Voice, LLC, Towson, MD, United States; Bruce Rapkin, PhD, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Bronx, NY, United States

Understanding the impact of radical cystectomy and urinary diversion in patients with bladder cancer: Treatment outcomes clarified by appraisal processes
Bernard H. Bochner, MD, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, New York, NY, United States; Carolyn E. Schwartz, ScD, DeltaQuest Foundation, Inc., Tufts University Medical School, Concord, MA, United States; Iliana Garcia, MPH, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Bronx, NY, United States; Leah Goldstein, LMSW, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, New York, NY, United States; Jie Zhang, MPH, DeltaQuest Foundation, Inc., Concord, MA, United States; Bruce Rapkin, PhD, Albert Einstein College of Medicine, Bronx, NY, United States