

Unlinking LinkedIn from My Personal Profile

If you've attended a virtual conference previously, there's a chance you've used this platform and your previous information may populate. If you prefer not to have your LinkedIn account connected to your ISOQOL conference profile, follow the steps below.

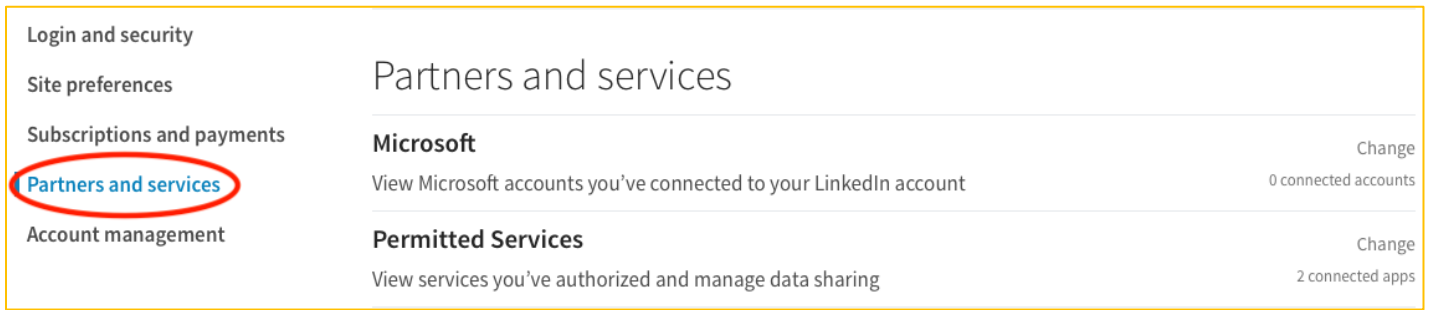

1. Go to <http://www.linkedin.com> and log in.
2. Go to Me > Settings and Privacy

3. Choose the Account tab

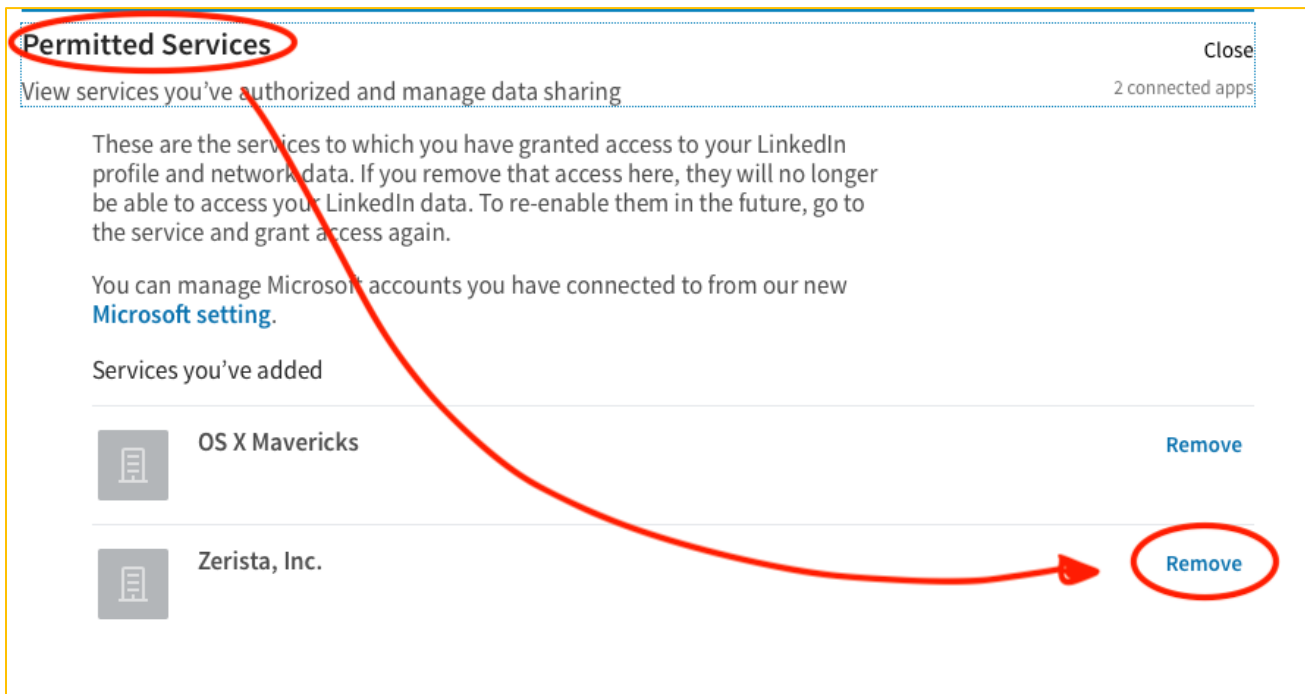

4. Click Partners and Services on the left hand side.

The screenshot shows the LinkedIn account settings page. On the left sidebar, the following options are listed: Login and security, Site preferences, Subscriptions and payments, Partners and services (circled in red), and Account management. The main content area is titled 'Partners and services' and contains two sections: 'Microsoft' with a 'Change' link and '0 connected accounts', and 'Permitted Services' with a 'Change' link and '2 connected apps'.

5. Click on Permitted Services to see what you are allowing to access your information. There should be one there called Zerista Inc. Click the remove link on the right to break the link.

The screenshot shows the 'Permitted Services' page. The title 'Permitted Services' is circled in red. Below the title, there is a 'Close' button and the text 'View services you've authorized and manage data sharing' and '2 connected apps'. A paragraph explains that these are services granted access to LinkedIn profile and network data. Below this, there is a link to 'Microsoft setting'. Under the heading 'Services you've added', there are two entries: 'OS X Mavericks' and 'Zerista, Inc.'. The 'Remove' button for 'Zerista, Inc.' is circled in red. A red arrow points from the 'Permitted Services' title to the 'Remove' button for 'Zerista, Inc.'.

6. If you wish to connect your LinkedIn account and your ISOQOL conference profile, please try linking again through your ISOQOL conference profile.
